- My final app idea is the study app. I want to make the StudySmart AI because it can help me and other people study better.
- I'm going to change the app name to Scholar Buddy AI. I named it like this because I have a teacher who calls us scholars.
- My app solves students' procrastination habits and saves them time by scheduling their work and organizing a timeline when it should be done. It also allows them to study easier by making them quizzes and flashcards without students having to make a physical one themselves.
- Students of all grades. Students in high school and college will be the main focus for this app because they are the ones with heavier material given to them to study.
- I chose this idea because it resonates with me the most because I myself am a procrastinator, so I want to do this for myself too. I also want to help those who have similar problems to mine when it comes to studying.
